

NIA Announces New 2014–2015 Board of Directors and Executive Committee

The National Insulation Association (NIA) is pleased to announce its officers for 2014–2015. The officers will be led by NIA's President, David Dzina, who will serve a second term. The new slate of officers and representatives assumed their responsibilities following a unanimous vote by the NIA membership during NIA's business session, which took place on April 3, 2014, at NIA's 59th Annual Convention in Indian Wells, California.

David Dzina co-owns PBI Supply, Inc. and Selle Supply Company with Cheryl Burrows. Selle Supply Company and PBI Supply, Inc. are full-line distributors of insulation products and related construction materials. They specialize in the lamination of fiberglass insulation for metal buildings. Mr. Dzina has been the Co-owner and President of PBI Supply, Inc. and Selle Supply Company since 2003 and has almost 20 years of experience in the insulation and metal building lamination industry. Mr. Dzina specializes in sales and is responsible for the operations of both companies. Throughout his career, Mr. Dzina has been involved in NIA through committee membership, by serving as Chairman of several committees, and also by serving on the Board of Directors.

Mr. Dzina believes that having a clear vision for our industry and association's future is paramount to success. His term will conclude at NIA's 60th Annual Convention at the JW Marriott San Antonio Hill Country Resort & Spa in San Antonio, Texas from March 25–28, 2015.
