

NIA Releases Updated *Mechanical Insulation Installation Video Series

Reston, VA - November 21, 2014 - The National Insulation Association (NIA) is committed to providing educational resources for the mechanical insulation industry and recently released the Mechanical Insulation Installation Video Series at its annual Committee Days meeting in Fort Worth, Texas, November 11-12, 2014.

Created by the industry for the industry, the Mechanical Insulation Installation Video Series provides a general overview, safety precautions, and video demonstrations of mechanical insulation applications. All segments of the industry, including merit and union contractors, distributors/fabricators, manufacturers, and metal building laminators, provided support as NIA revised and updated its popular Craft Training Video Series. The new series is designed to supplement existing training programs but is not intended to serve as a stand-alone training course.

"These videos are versatile and informative, and we are particularly proud to have support from all sectors of our industry. We are grateful to all the member-company sponsors that supported this instructional video series with funding, product contributions, and industry knowledge and expertise," said NIA Executive Vice President/CEO Michele Jones. "These new videos are a great resource for the mechanical insulation industry, as well as end-user customers and others who are interested in mechanical insulation best practices."

The series is available for purchase as a 2-disc compilation DVD or individual DVDs, and topics include:

- Calcium Silicate and Perlite: Pipe and Equipment Insulation
- Cellular Foam: Pipe and Equipment Insulation
- Cellular Glass: Pipe and Equipment Insulation
- Elastomeric and Polyolefin: Pipe, Equipment, and Duct Insulation
- Fiber Glass: Pipe, Equipment, and Duct Insulation
- Mineral Wool: Pipe and Equipment Insulation
- Removable and Reusable Flexible Insulation Covers

A preview of the series is available on NIA's YouTube Channel. The Mechanical Insulation Installation Video Series was made possible through generous donations from more than 110 member companies.

Limited quantities of the 2-disc DVD compilation set and the 7 individual topic DVDs are available in NIA's Online Store or by completing the attached order form. NIA member pricing: individual DVDs are $40/each, and the compilation is $230. The individual topic DVDs will be on sale for Cyber Monday at www.insulation.org/products.
