

Professional Instructors

The course instructors are Garry Caudill and Ron King.

Based in Denver, Colorado, with more than 40 years of industry experience, Garry Caudill spent over 20 years with Johns Manville, serving in a wide variety of capacities within JM's insulation businesses from sales management to product, marketing, and channel management. Prior to his recent retirement, Garry was the Product Management Leader for JM's Industrial Insulation business. Previously, Garry worked for Thermal Ceramics for 22 years.

Based in Houston, Texas, and a 50-year veteran of the commercial and industrial insulation industry, Ron King held executive management positions with a national distributor/fabricator, an accessory manufacturer, and a specialty insulation contractor. He was awarded the NIA's President's Award in 1986 and again in 2001. Ron King is a Past President, Honorary Member, and Consultant for NIA.
