

NIA's Safety Excellence Award

2022 NIA Associate Member Application Form

A NIA Member-Only Program

Instructions:

Please complete this application and submit it with a check payable to "National Insulation Association" for the $250 application processing fee. Companies applying for the first time receive a discount of 50% and should send a check for $125. (Note: The NIA Board of Directors has kept the application cost down as a benefit to NIA members. NIA underwrites a portion of this program to help keep the application fees low.) This form must be received no later than September 1, 2022, at the address below. All completed applications and appropriate fees (make checks out to "National Insulation Association") should be mailed to:

Auman, Mahan & Furry
Attn: Gary Auman, NIA Legal Counsel
110 North Main Street, Suite 1000
Dayton, OH 45402-1738

You can also email your completed application to BRL@AMFDAYTON.COM and call 703-464-6422, ext. 113 to pay the credit card rate ($255 for repeat applicants/$130 for first-time applicants) over the phone.

Please do not attach your safety program to this application. Instead, please answer each question in your own words based on what is included in your safety program. Please read each question carefully and be sure you respond to each part of any multi-part question. Please type your response to each question on a separate piece of paper.

UNLESS ATTACHMENTS OR COPIES OF YOUR PROGRAM ARE REQUESTED, THEY WILL NOT BE GRADED.

Only NIA Associate (Manufacturer) members are eligible to use this form. Associate members must be members in good standing for this application to be considered (i.e., your company's NIA membership dues must be paid in full by the time applications are judged and at the awards presentation). To check your company's membership status, please email membership@insulation.org. Please note that no exceptions will be made to this requirement.

Please complete all information. Incomplete applications and those without appropriate payment will not be considered.

Section 1: General Information

This safety recognition program is intended only to evaluate components of the applicant's safety program for best practices. We do not consider injury rates or OSHA citations in our evaluation. Even a company with the best safety program can run afoul of OSHA if it does not implement and enforce the requirements, policies, and procedures in its

Section 3: Company Safety Program Questions

1. A strong safety culture is integral in establishing your commitment to safety. Please describe how your company addresses safety culture by answering the following questions: How do you engage your employees in your safety programs and culture? How do you demonstrate management's commitment to your safety culture? What level of commitment do you expect from your leadership team to your safety culture? How do you encourage and obtain employee involvement in creating and maintaining a safe workplace through safety and health communications, goal setting and measurement, and the commitment of resources to your safety culture? In addition to the preceding, what other programs do you have that lead to a strong safety culture?
2. Please describe in detail your machine guarding program. Include in your response the types of guarding you use, employee training, worksite inspections, and your procedure for evaluating the guarding on new equipment and machinery.
3. OSHA is moving to promulgate a specific standard for heat illness prevention. We believe that OSHA will be guided in this effort by the new OSHA Administrator, Doug Parker, who may well be guided by the heat illness prevention standard he administered in California as the Cal OSHA Administrator. Please describe in detail the steps you take to protect your employees from heat illness, including but not limited to, complying with the NIOSH criteria document on heat illness prevention currently accepted by OSHA as feasible steps for an employer to take to prevent heat illnesses in the workplace.
4. Describe the procedures you use in your locations to identify potential hazards in each workplace. Include information as to how you engage your employees in this process and train them on hazard recognition. In addition to the preceding, include in your response items such as job site analyses (JSAs), standard operating procedures, pre-shift inspections and meetings, and management of change.
5. Describe, in detail, your procedures for accident investigation. Include who initiates the accident investigation, team makeup, and what criteria are used to make these decisions. Factors may include the severity of injuries, or potential injuries, and damage to property or equipment. Detail the training of any personnel who may be assigned to perform an accident investigation. Please describe your procedures for conducting an accident investigation in detail. This may include, but not be limited to, the handling of witnesses, physical evidence, photographs, etc. If either the makeup of the investigation team or the procedure for conducting the investigation may change from incident to incident, please describe how and why this may occur. Also, discuss how you ensure that the conclusions and recommendations drawn from the accident investigation are communicated and implemented after the investigation. Please attach a copy of your accident investigation form and explain any parts of the form that are not self-explanatory.

Winners of NIA’s Safety Excellence Award will be chosen on the basis of their safety program, means of communication and training, and company safety policy. Safety programs are not judged against other safety programs—only against an “ideal” program. Winners will be announced and recognized during NIA’s 67th Annual Convention, March 15–17, 2023, at the Hyatt Regency Maui Resort & Spa, in Maui, Hawaii.
